BRIEF AND TO THE POINT

NEWS ITEMS GATHERED IN THIS AND ADJOINING STATES.

Old Grudge Causes a Tragedy.—Governor Brown's Condition—Land Case Involving Half a Million Acres. Found Dead in Tunnel.

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 26.—Deputy Sheriff L. R. May shot and killed Lee Lewis at Powell's station, in this county. The shooting was the result of an old grudge. The parties were returning from a Christmas entertainment at a village church, when May, who was a few steps in front of Lewis, turned and fired four shots at him, two of which entered his chest. Lewis was unarmed, and was accompanied at the time by his wife and daughter. Carl Woolsey, son of Ray John Woolsey, who happened to be behind Lewis, was shot in the hip and seriously wounded by one of the stray shots.

Swells Kentucky Treasury.—Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 30.—The Frankfort chair company paid the balance of $14,200 due the state and will pay the interest due on deferred payments as soon as the amount has been ascertained. The Illinois Central railroad paid to the auditor $250,000 on its tangible property, and Louisville and Nashville turned a $40,900 franchise tax for this year. The Hartford Fire Insurance company paid back taxes due on premiums since 1899, and the Continental Tobacco company paid $144,000 on business done in Kentucky this past year.

May Be Lynched.—On the Coan creek, in Letcher county, William Shepherd entered the home of Obadiah Fields, his father-in-law, and shot and killed Riley Webb, aged 23. Then turning upon his wife, Mary Shepherd, the slayer fired a fatal ball into her body. His wife was carrying her 10 months old baby in her arms, and the infant also was fatally wounded. Shepherd disappeared toward the Virginia border, but was apprehended and taken to Whitesburg, Ky. There is much excitement at Whitesburg and lynching is threatened.

Shot From Ambush.—Lexington, Ky., Dec. 30.—In Breathitt county bloodhounds have been put on the trail of another murderer who shot and killed his man from ambush. As James Johnson was walking in the direction of his home on George creek, a rifle shot rang out from the underbrush on the mountain side and he fell mortally wounded. He leaves a widow and four children. There is no clue to the assassin, and it is not known that he was connected with any feud.

Ex-Governor Brown's Condition.—Henderson, Ky., Dec. 26.—The condition of former Governor John Young Brown, who has been ill of dropsy for some time, is gradually growing worse, and it will be necessary to perform another operation in order to afford him temporary relief. The long confinement and the progress of the disease have weakened the patient considerably, and the attending physicians do not believe he will survive much longer than a week.

Mob Violence Threatened.—Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 26.—Threats of mob violence having become pronounced during the past two days, nine negroes, charged with murder, were spirited away to Madisonville for safekeeping. The negroes are charged with the murder and mutilation of an unknown man a week ago. One of the prisoners confessed that the stranger was murdered and robbed of $100 by himself and companions.

Read Yellowbacks.—Moreheadtown, W. Va., Dec. 26.—Lawrence Dancer, Clarence Jamison, Charles Myers, William Santee and Benjamin Harbison, aged about 10 years each, are in jail here. They said they were organized and had been looting stores. Dancer, the leader of the gang, said they had sworn an oath in their own blood to stick together in their work, and that they were inspired by dime novels.

Land Case Venues.—Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 28.—An order was entered in the famous River land suit by Judge Justice of the Eleventh Judicial district removing the case to the Marion county circuit court before Judge John Mason. Half a million acres of land are at stake. Judge Doolittle was prohibited from sitting in the case by the supreme court.

Christmas Shooting.—Lebanon, Tenn., Dec. 26.—At Fall Creek church during a Christmas entertainment Sheriff James Jennings shot and fatally wounded Rice Pickett, who, together with several other young men, it is alleged, had come to the church to remove the Christmas tree.

Dog Causes a Tragedy.—Madisonville, Ky., Dec. 26.—News reached this city of a shooting affair near Providence in which Volney Rich, a farmer, had been shot and instantly killed, and Ben Hall, a neighbor, fatally wounded. The two men had trouble over a dog.

Struck Oil.—Owingsville, Ky., Dec. 28.—The Mutual Oil and Gas company, with fields near the Ragland oil fields of this county, have completed a well which is said to average 25 barrels per day.

Found Dead in Tunnel.—Middleboro, Ky., Dec. 28.—The body of an unknown man was found in the Cumberland Gap tunnel, he having been killed by a train.

New Railroad Mileage.—Baltimore, Dec. 26.—The Manufacturers' Record has made a careful review of railroad construction in the Southern States, Missouri, Indian territory and Oklahoma, covering the entire year of 1903, and showing that 3707.8 miles of line were built since Jan. 1 last, and that at least 4171.4 miles of line will be built in those states and territories during 1904.

Dynamited the Safe.—South McAlester, I. T., Dec. 28.—A hold bank robbery, attended by a desperate battle between a posse of citizens and robbers, occurred at Kiowa, a small town 16 miles south of this city, the robbers securing and destroying about $2,800 worth in the bank. The men gained entrance to the bank building through a rear window.

Eleven Passengers Injured.—Kokomo, Ind., Dec. 26.—Eleven passengers were more or less injured by the collision of a westbound Clover Leaf passenger train loaded with Christmas passengers and a Pan Handle freight engine at a crossing here. There were 129 passengers on the train. Two cars were overturned.

Biggest Engine on Earth.—St. Louis, Dec. 24.—The biggest stationary steam engine on earth reached the world's fair grounds on 21 cars. It is of 5,000 horsepower. The engine is to be installed in the center nave of Machinery hall. The total gross weight of the shipment is 720 tons, divided into 202 packages.

Insurrection in Africa.—Cape Town, Dec. 28.—A general insurrection has broken out among the Bondelwartha tribes in Great Namaqualand, German Southwest Africa. The insurrectionists have collected in the Kara mountains.

An epidemic of typhoid fever threatens Pittsburg, Pa. Four hundred and sixty-nine cases have been reported so far this month.

THE RETURN TO ZION

IT IS WRITTEN, "A JEW CANNOT ESCAPE HIS JUDASIM."

From All Over the Earth Wandering Children of Israel Make Homeward Pilgrimages to the City of Zion—The New Zionist Movement.

[Special Correspondence.] Port Said, Dec. 12.—Each end of the great Suez canal is popularly described by superlatives. Aden, the port at the south end, is called the hottest place on earth, and the tourist who is caught there during one of the place's torrid spells concludes it bears out its reputation. Port Said, this quiet, innocent looking town at the north end of the toll water way, is claimed to be the wickedest spot on the earth. Tales scary enough are told of how white young ladies, tourists going ashore from a steamer at Port Said and walking through its streets to view the quaint sights here, have been spirited away by villainous Arab slave traders and sold into horrible bondage in harems north and south. I do not know whether they are true or not.

What I do know is that Port Said is a point of meeting in the great highway for Jews returning to Jerusalem. There are thousands of these. Most go to visit the city of Zion and return to the places where they live and thrive in the four quarters of the earth. But some who have made fortune among the gentiles go back to Jerusalem to live the remainder of their days and to lay their bones in the outcast Jew burying ground there. No Hebrew may be buried within the glorious city of his fathers.

To Port Said they come from both ways—pious orthodox Hebrews. From all Asia and the Isles of the far east they come by steamer through the Indian ocean and the Suez canal to Port Said. Again, from England and the western countries they sail through the Mediterranean; also to this city, and the two streams meet here. Thence to reach Palestine one must go by steamer northward to Jaffa, ancient Joppa, which is the port of Jerusalem.

The movement for the return of the Jews to Palestine was begun in 1890 by the formation of the Israelite alliance, whose aim was to better the condition of the persecuted Jews throughout the world. One of the things the alliance has achieved is the formation of a successful colony at Jaffa, with an agricultural school.

But all the tremendous enthusiasm of the Jewish blood with those who still hope and pray for the restoration of their people to the city of their fathers is now stirred by the Zionist movement. It is assuming sensible proportions. A strange fact concerning it is that almost without exception the great Jew financiers are utterly indifferent to it, while the Jew thinkers, scientists like Max Nordau and Dr. Herzl, litterateurs and poets like Israel Zangwill, throw themselves into it with passionate devotion.

The hope of a Messiah who will come to redeem them from misery has been nearly ground out of the Jews by 2,000 years of persecution and oppression. For except the most orthodox of oriental Israelites now look forward to a such deliverance. But a new hope has sprung up in the breasts of hundreds of thousands of them, the hope that they themselves will yet be able to rebuild the city of Zion as the headquarters of the Jewish people. The Zionists would buy of the Turks outright the land of Palestine and convert it into a redeemed and progressive modern Jewry.

Orthodox oriental Jews devoutly believe that to this day the Old Testament curse is on them for the sin and idolatry of the Bible Hebrews. They also believe that by prayer and humiliation this curse may be removed. Such belief gives rise to some curious customs. Rich orthodox Hebrew merchants in Asia who cannot themselves go to Jerusalem and pray day after day, mouth after month, live their religious life in the Holy City by going to the Jews' waiting place and pray and chant the penitential psalm. One of the strangest sights of old Jerusalem is the Jew pilgrims at the place of weeping. It is at the spot where some of the founders of the ancient world still lie. None but Mohammedans may now tread the site of the holy of holies, yet outside upon the rocks Jews kneel heartbrokenly in the dust and wall. Amid the abuse and garbage flinging of Turkish soldiers who guard the spot the devotees pray and weep.

WILHELMINA SCHRIF.

SURRENDERED TO POLICE.

Salt Lake Barber Confessed to the Killing of His Wife.

Salt Lake City, Dec. 28.—Frank Rose, a barber, surrendered himself at police headquarters. He said that he had killed his wife Christina at noon, and that the body was still lying in the bedroom where the woman had died after lying for two hours with a pistol bullet in her brain.

The police found, lying on a bed in a miserably furnished shack, the body of Mrs. Rose, clad only in her undergarments, and her side was the woman's two-year-old son, the baby's clothes being saturated with its mother's blood. It was at first thought that the child was dead, but when an officer attempted to release the little arms from around the woman's neck the boy began to cry and plaintively told the policeman that something was the matter with his mamma and that "she won't wake up." The child is in a serious condition, but will probably recover.

Two Revolutions in San Domingo.—Washington, Dec. 29.—The state department received the following undated dispatch from Minister Powell regarding the progress of the revolutions in San Domingo: "Another revolution at Azua and at Barahona, with another provisional government there. This is the second revolution and a couple of governments, one in the north and center and another in the south."

Lived a Century, Slept in a Chair.—Danville, Ill., Dec. 29.—Catherine McVey, aged 104, who was pastry cook at a Danville hotel when Abraham Lincoln stayed there, died suddenly. Her husband died 25 years ago, and after his death she never went to bed, but always slept in a chair.

Increase in Patents.—Washington, Dec. 26.—More specifications for patents and trade marks were printed in the Patent Office Gazette this year than in any previous year. Report of the work of the division shows 31,165 patents, 1886 trade marks and 536 design specifications.

Trip Around the World.—Boston, Mass., Dec. 26.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, the founder of the Christian Endeavor society, left this city on a trip around the world. Dr. Clark was accompanied by his daughter. Several clergymen and Christian Endeavor officials were on the steamer to bid Dr. Clark farewell.

Get Notice of Curfew.—Ironport, O., Dec. 29.—Three thousand blast furnace workers in this district were given notice of a proposed reduction of 10 per cent in wages, to take effect Jan. 1. The matter will be considered at a district meeting here next Wednesday.
